

Title of Session	The Role of the Grid within Education
SESSION 22
Presenter(s) and contact details	Nicole Harris, Programme Manager, JISC. n.harris@jisc.ac.uk
Key words	Grid, Environments, eScience, eResearch
Aims and objectives	Open Parallel Session Through its Committee for the Support of Research (JCSR), JISC is funding various projects that are developing and enhancing software and services to support the vision of the GRID and eResearch. Many of these projects are attempting to open this area of work out to the larger community, through training and awareness activities for social scientists and the arts and humanities, and through demonstrator projects based in schools. This session will look at this work and ask how applicable eResearch developments are to the wider teaching, learning and library communities. Objectives, intended outcomes and activities for participants The objectives are to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Provide an overview of the projects funded within this area.</li> <li>• Facilitate an open discussion on the importance of the Grid to the educational community.</li> </ul> The intended outcomes are to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Ensure that attendees are aware of all current activities in this area.</li> <li>• Help inform and set the agenda for a planned public event on "The Role of the Grid in Education" in October 2004.</li> </ul>
Audience	This session is intended for all project staff interested in the impact that Grid developments will have on the wider educational community.
Style of session	Presentation and Discussion.